

Teresa Garcia-Milà earned her PhD in Economics at the University of Minnesota in 1987. She is Professor at Universitat Pompeu Fabra (UPF), Affiliated Professor at the Barcelona GSE, and Research Associate at CREI. She is currently Director of the Barcelona GSE, and has been Vice-rector of Scientific Policy, Chair of the Department of Economics and Business and Dean of the Undergraduate Studies in Economics at UPF. She has served as President of the Spanish Economic Association (2014). Prior to joining the UPF, Prof. Garcia-Milà has held academic positions at SUNY at Stony Brook and at the Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona. Her research has focused in studying the impact of public investment on economic growth, and in the analysis of how different tax structures and fiscal federalism models influence economic growth, the distribution of resources and the economic wellbeing.

Selected Publications

- “Strength in Diversity? Fiscal Federalism among the Fifty US States, (with T. McGuire and W. Oates), International Tax and Public Finance, 25 (4), 2018, 1071-1091.
- “Tobin meets Oates: Solidarity and the Optimal Fiscal Federal Structure” (with X. Calsamiglia and T. McGuire), International Tax and Public Finance, 20 (3), 2013, 450-473.
- “Supply Side Interventions and Redistribution”, (with A. Marcet and E. Ventura), Economic Journal, 120 (543), 2010, 105-130.
- “A Note on the Shift to a Service-based Economy and the Consequences for Regional Growth”, (with T. McGuire), Journal of Regional Science, 38 (2), 1998, 353-363.
- “The Contribution of Publicly Provided Inputs to States’ Economies”, (with T. McGuire), Regional Science and Urban Economics, 22 (2), 1992, 229-241.